

Note:

Four weeks at the end of the summer quarter have been left free. This is to allow for any special days during the year when the curriculum may not be followed. Hence, you have four weeks to help you space out the curriculum over the year as required so that your kids do not need to miss any lessons in the series.